COURSE DESCRIPTION:

This course is an introduction to the study of politics. The objective of this course is to introduce students to key debates, approaches, concepts and areas of inquiry common to the study of politics, broadly conceived. Although politics are often associated with the world of ‘formal’ political institutions—parliaments, elections, political parties—this course also pays serious attention to the broad realm of informal politics. This entails power relations across a wide range of ‘public’ and ‘private’ spaces ranging from intimate relationships to economic processes to issues of war and peace. The course will ask questions about what power is and where it lies, examining relations of power across a diverse range of settings. The course examines a diverse set of political debates and concepts: state sovereignty, imperialism, migration, citizenship, human rights, environment, race, trade, terrorism and gender.

CLASS FORMAT:

Classes will be organized as two weekly sessions on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 0930 to 1050. The sessions will meet in Tory 1 93. The Tuesday sessions will almost always consist of ‘interactive’ or ‘open’ style lectures addressing the key themes of the week and provoking some initial discussion. Although the Thursday session will sometimes also feature lectures, it will also frequently feature discussion sessions. Students should come prepared for the Thursday sessions to discuss key themes raised in the readings and lectures for the week. The instructor will give some instructions in advance regarding the discussion sessions.

OFFICE HOURS:

Time: Thursdays 1100-1300, or by appointment.
Office: 10-29 Tory Building
Phone: 492-0539
Email: raitken@ualberta.ca

COURSE TEXTS:
The main text for the course is:

It is available at the main campus bookstore.

In addition, some of the weeks may include supplementary readings for discussions sessions which are web resources or journal articles. All journal articles are available as electronic texts through the library website and can be accessed remotely using normal CCID login procedures. Any student having difficulty accessing readings or requiring additional assistance should contact the instructor as soon as possible.

REQUIREMENTS AND EVALUATION:

The course requirements are outlined below. Students should note that in all but exceptional situations, all components of the course must be completed to receive a passing grade. Policy regarding missed term work is outlined in Section 23.4(3) of the University Calendar. Tests and assignments will be assigned a letter grade. The instructor will not 'curve' or adjust final grades according to any preset formula.

Evaluation of the following course requirements will determine students’ grades:

- Class Participation: 15% of course grade.

  Several of the Thursday sessions in the course will be devoted to discussion and debate. These sessions are mandatory and participation is essential to success in the course. Students are expected to prepare for these discussions by reading all required readings, to participate... actively in class discussions, to listen carefully to other students, and to engage in critical discussions relating to key themes and questions.

- Reading Analysis Assignment 25% of grade—due 16 October 2014.

- The First substantive assignment is a critical reading analysis. Students will be able to choose one reading from a list of options—including at least one fiction option. Students will be asked to write five pages (double spaced, regular margins) in reaction to the reading and, in particular, about where power lies, how power is exercised and how we recognize power when we see it. Details of the assignment, and one example, will be discussed in late September in class.

- Research Assignment 30% of final grade due 27 November 2014.

  The second major assignment for the course is a research assignment. Students will be given a list of questions from which to choose. In each case, students will be asked to answer the question by researching the topic using academic sources from the main University Library. Students must consult, use and cite at least four sources in their answer. Details of the assignment, instructions on how to access sources, guidance regarding research in the library and examples will be discussed in class in late October.

- Final Exam: 30% of course grade, during officially scheduled exam period.

  There will be a final exam scheduled during the official exam period at the end of the term. Please note the exam scheduling when making any end-of-term travel plans. The exam will focus both on specific issues raised in the class as well as overarching themes that connect questions raised in two or more weeks of the course.

LATE PENALTIES, PLAGIARISM & ACADEMIC HONESTY:

_Late assignments:_ It is your responsibility to inform the instructor as soon as it becomes clear that your work will be late. If you do not communicate in advance, and your reason for being late does not also explain this lack of communication, then you should be prepared to be penalized 10% per day.

_Plagiarism & Academic Dishonesty:_ The University of Alberta is committed to the highest standards of academic integrity and honesty. Students are expected to be familiar with these standards regarding academic honesty and to uphold the policies of the University in this respect. Students are particularly urged to familiarize themselves with the provisions of the Code of Student Behaviour (online at www.ualberta.ca/secretariat/appeals.htm) and avoid any behaviour which could potentially result in suspicions of cheating, plagiarism, misrepresentation of facts and/or participation in an offence. Academic dishonesty is a serious offence and can result in suspension or expulsion from the University. An important excerpt from the Code of Student Behaviour is appended at the end of this syllabus. Additional information and resources are available through the UofA’s Truth in Education project: http://www.uofaweb.ualberta.ca/TIE/.

SPECIALIZED SUPPORT & DISABILITY SERVICES:

Students with disabilities or special needs that might interfere with their performance should contact the professor at the beginning of the course with the appropriate documentation. Every effort will be made to accommodate such students, but in all cases prior arrangements must be made to ensure that any special needs can be met in a timely fashion and in such a way that the rest of the class is not put at an unfair disadvantage. Students requiring special support or services should be registered with the office of Specialized Support & Disability Services (SSDS): http://www.uofaweb.ualberta.ca/SSDS/. This is particularly important for students requiring special exam arrangements. Once you have registered with SSDS, it is your responsibility to provide the instructor with a "Letter of Introduction" and, if necessary, an "Exam Instruction & Authorization" form.

FEELING OVERWHELMED? (In need of student, social, financial or security services?):

The Student Distress Centre is there to listen, offer support, supply information and provide services:

The U of A considers plagiarism, cheating, misrepresentation of facts and participation in an offence to be serious academic offences. Plagiarism, cheating, misrepresentation of facts and participation in an offence can be avoided if students are told what these offences are and if possible sanctions are made clear at the outset. Instructors should understand that the principles embodied in the Code are essential to our academic purpose. For this reason, instructors will be fully supported by Departments, Faculties and the University in their endeavours to rightfully discover and pursue cases of academic dishonesty in accordance with the Code.

At the beginning of each term, we ask you to review with your students the definitions of plagiarism and cheating. We are now also asking you to review with your students the definition of Misrepresentation of facts and Participation in an Offence. Your cooperation and assistance in this matter are much appreciated.

Procedures for Instructors Regarding

Plagiarism, Cheating,

Misrepresentation of Facts and Participation in an Offence

The following procedures are drawn from the Code of Student Behaviour as approved by GFC and the Board of Governors. The guidelines summarize what instructors must do when they have reason to believe that a student has plagiarized, cheated, misrepresented facts or participated in an offence. If you have questions about these guidelines, or about the policies, please talk with the senior administrator in your Faculty responsible for dealing with student discipline—usually an Associate Dean—or the Appeals and Compliance Officer (Appeals Coordinator), University Governance (2-2655).

30.5.4 Procedures for Instructors in Cases Respecting Inappropriate Academic Behaviour

30.5.4.1 When an Instructor believes that a Student may have committed an Inappropriate Academic Behaviour Offence [30.3.2] or there is evidence of Misrepresentation of Facts [30.3.6(i)] or Participation in an Offence [30.3.6(5)] in cases respecting Inappropriate Academic Behaviour in the course that he or she instructs, the Instructor will meet with the Student. Before such a meeting, the Instructor shall inform the Student of the purpose of the meeting. In the event that the Student refuses or fails to meet with the Instructor within a reasonable period of time specified by the Instructor, the Instructor shall, taking into account the available information, decide whether a report to the Dean is warranted.

30.5.4.2 If the Instructor believes there has been a violation of the Code, the Instructor shall, as soon as possible after the event occurred, report that violation to the Dean and provide a written statement of the details of the case. The instructor may also include a recommendation for sanction.

Possible Sanctions

One or more of the following sanctions given in 30.4.3 (2) and (3) of the Code are commonly used for plagiarism, cheating, participation in an offense, and misrepresentation of facts:

30.4.3(2) a.i a mark reduction or a mark of 0 on any term work or examination for reason of inappropriate Academic Behaviour
30.4.3(2) a.ii Reduction of a grade in a course
30.4.3(2) a.iii a grade of F for a course
30.4.3(2) a.iv a remark on a transcript of 8 (or 9 for failing graduate student grades), indicating Inappropriate Academic Behaviour, in addition to 30.4.3(2)a.i, 30.4.3(2)a.ii or 30.4.3(2)a.iii
30.4.3(3) b Expulsion
30.4.3(3) c Suspension

The following sanctions may be used in rare cases:

30.4.3(3) e Suspension of a Degree already awarded
30.4.3(3) f Rescission of a Degree already awarded

30.6.1 Initiation of an Appeal

30.6.1.1 When a Student has been found to have committed an offence under the Code of Student Behaviour or an Applicant is found to have committed an offense under the Code of Applicant Behaviour, whether or not that Student or Applicant has been given a sanction, the Student or Applicant may appeal that decision, except in the case of a decision of the Discipline Officer under 30.5.6(ii), which remains final and is not subject to appeal. In cases where a severe sanction has been recommended to the Discipline Officer, once the student receives the final decision of the Discipline Officer, the student can appeal the decisions of both Dean and the Discipline Officer at the same time. The written appeal must be presented to the Appeals Coordinator in University Governance within 15 Working Days of the date of receipt of the decision by the Student or Applicant. The finding that an offence has been committed, the sanction imposed or both may form the basis of appeal. The written appeal must also state the full grounds of appeal and be signed by the Appellant. The appeal shall be heard by the UAB.
