Green & Gold Spring Break Multi-Sport Camps 2018

This camp will give participants an opportunity to sample a variety of age-appropriate team sports, and in the process to develop a wide range of sport-specific and general athletic skills. General athletic skills will be taught through our innovative AIM Program, which incorporates a variety of age-appropriate physical and mental activities. This camp will focus on skill development over the first three days, with a friendly competition featured on the final day. Participants may be grouped based on age and/or current skill level. Previous sports experience is not required. Other than athletic clothing and footwear, there is no special equipment needed.

These camps are designed in conjunction with the experts in the University of Alberta’s Faculty of Kinesiology, Sport, and Recreation, and are consistent with the guidelines in Canadian Sport For Life’s Long-Term Athlete Development framework.
